CHICAGO POSTMAN ROBBED OF MILLION IN HEART OF LOOP

Five Gunmen Snatch Fortune in Bank Mail From Carrier and Guard in Daylight Holdup.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Swooping down on a postman and his armed guard in the relative quiet of early morning, five masked men executed a robbery in the heart of the Loop today and made off with a pouch of registered mail consigned to the First National bank.

Securities, coupons, bank paper of $1,000,000 or more face value, were snatched and shaken up but not seriously hurt.

Mr. Hamilton, who resided at 446 Washington street, S. W., was 82 years of age. His wife died on November 20 and the elderly Atlantant, who was a retired baker, was so greatly affected by her loss that he had invited on his trip with Father Phillips to visit the priest's relatives in the hope that a change of scenery would benefit him. The couple had been married 57 years and had resided in Atlanta for more than 30 years.

Mr. Hamilton was a native of St. John's, New Brunswick, where he lived during his early childhood. His parents later removed to Boston, Mass., where he and Mrs. Hamilton were married. In addition to being an outstanding member of the Catholic Laymen's Association of Georgia, he was a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, of which he was one of its founders. He was a fourth degree Knight of Columbus and for many years had been an energetic worker in the congregation of the charitable organization of Immaculate Conception, having contributed generously over a long period of years to the church's charities.

Mr. Hamilton is survived by two

SIMMONS DEPUTY PLACED IN CHARGE OF TRUST FUNDS

Order Issued After Audit of Fulton Clerk's Office Charges Carelessness in Handling of Monies.

After receiving a report of an audit of trust funds in charge of J. W. Simmons, clerk of the Fulton superior court, which charged carelessness in management of the funds, the judges of the court Tuesday passed an order directing that the funds, which previously had been handled by Simmons and his deputies, be handled exclusively by George F. Haney, deputy clerk in charge of the court docket.

The audit, made public simultaneously with announcement of issuance of the order, reveals that on September 30, this year, there was a total of $10,497.32 due the trust fund accounts, $9,984.02 of which since had been deposited. This sum undeposited on September 30, the audit reveals, had been received during the six-month period preceding that date.

The auditors also reported to the judges of the court that the clerk had failed to follow strictly an order passed in January of this year that one duty be designated to handle the funds.

Judge John D. Humphries, senior member of the court, who made public both the order and the report of the audit, which was made by Respass & Respass, said that after the audit had been received Simmons requested that Haney be designated to handle the funds. The order, signed by four of the five judges, provides that Haney shall be bonded to the extent of $10,000, the cost of the bond to be paid by the court.

In a statement issued shortly after publication of the order, the order was signed by Judge Humphries, Simmons declared that he had requested the action because he felt that one man could handle the funds more better than he and the other deputies. Simmons said that he previously had appointed Haney to take charge of the funds and the order of the court, he said, had been the making effective by the judges to whom he is responsible, an action which he himself deemed necessary.

The Respass and Respass audit filed Tuesday with Judge Humphries and his fellow members of the court reveals that at present the trust fund

Voters of Atlanta Go to Polls Today

Dr. Samuel Green, chairman, and other members of the city democratic committee Tuesday night rallied around Clark Donaldson, democratic nominee for chief of construction at a meeting held at the city hall with a view of assuring Donaldson's confirmation in the general city election today.

The committee voted unanimously to work at the polls today to defend nominees, gave Dr. Green a rising vote of thanks for his leadership in the national platform pending a meeting to be called within the next few days.

Donaldson is opposed by Henry Benson, independent, and the only other contest is a six-cornered seat for councilman from the sixth ward to be won by the late Councilman Claude L. Barnwell. The issues will be decided in 34 ballot boxes throughout the city. Polls open at 7 o'clock this morning and close at 7 o'clock tonight.

Councilman L. O. Mosler, named by council to succeed Barnwell, will be the only challenger. Mr. Mosler said, "I have been making a careful study of the diversion plan, but am not yet ready to make a statement on my stand. I would rather wait until I am perfectly sure of the ground before saying anything definite. I am a new member and I realize that it is best for me to study the plan."

More than a score of democratic nominees are unopposed and will be confirmed in the balloting today.

Vague Clues Followed In Wanderwell Murder

Two Georgia Girls Among Those Detained for Questioning After Killing on Boat in California Harbor.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Mystery, a suspected spy, and a death shot in the back fired in the darkened cabin of an adventure yacht, was the trail detectives were following last night in the hope of finding the killer of Captain Walter Wanderwell.

Globe trotter, suspected spy, and untiring seeker of the bizarre in life, Wanderwell was felled by an assassin's bullet in the motor room of his newly acquired yacht Carmel, left a murder mystery as keen as any of the adventures he sought in life.

Sudden death came on the eve of his departure with a strange crew for the South seas in a run-running craft he had purchased at auction and which had been declared unseaworthy by harbor officials.

The little band of fellow adventurers he had signed as "crew" to enable him to take the craft to sea despite protests by officials of its condition, was composed of nine women and seven men, besides himself. Their life locations ranged among the women from waitress to authoress and the men from cameraman to scion of English nobility.

All members of the Adventure crew were detained by police pending investigation, but were released tonight by authorities who said they were heading down to the floor examining papers in the drawer of a divan.

The means by which he left the ship in a motor launch, the captain's theory that the adventurer had been shot by a man angered because Wanderwell visited at his home, Los Angeles police said Wanderwell had been seen hastily leaving a Los Angeles westside apartment house Monday morning; that he returned after once

'VACATION' ENDS, PRESIDENT-ELECT LEAVES FOR EAST

Roosevelt, Heading for Special Session, Concludes 'Rest' Which Provided Little Relaxation.

BY W. B. RAGSDALE.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt left here this afternoon at 5:03 o'clock for the journey back to New York for the special session of the state legislature.

The president-elect boarded his train almost half an hour before time for departure. A good-sized crowd had gathered at the little railroad station to catch a glimpse of him.

As he moved up the ramp to the platform of his private car, Mr. Roosevelt observed to some of those standing close by:

"This is the gateway to my battleship."

He stood for a few moments on the platform, looking back at the crowd and then went inside for a talk with Arthur Carpenter, director of the foundation, before leaving.

Mr. Roosevelt emerged from the car again for a few moments before the train left to wave and shout "good-bye."

There was a chorus of "good-byes" from the crowd.

"Don't forget my address," shouted a grammar school girl. "It's Warm Springs, Ga., and you promised to write."

"I won't," responded the president-elect, smiling.

Each town that the train passed on its northward journey brought its chorus of onlookers to wave and shout as the train moved through.

"Vacation" Little Rest.

The "vacation" period that he had hoped would bring some rest after an arduous campaign, brought the president-elect little free time. Almost from the very day of his arrival he was plunged into a round of conferences with senators and representatives, advisers and numerous delegations.

Before he finally turned away from the little Pine Mountain cottage for the trip back home, Mr. Roosevelt had covered a broad range of legislative and executive duties. A large group of democratic members of congress his views of the program of farm relief and budgetary measures they should support.

Some of those with whom he talked had gained the impression that he leaned toward a domestic allotment policy of agricultural relief, that he favored legalizing legislation would be adopted by this congress, and that he was giving thought to a drastic revision of the budgetary system to divide the burden of originating power equally between congress and the chief executive.

Young Democrats Confer.

The final day of the president-elect in Warm Springs brought him a group of officers of the Young Democrats of America to pledge their cooperation and receive his commendations for their work during the campaign.

They met him as he was departing for the drive down the wooded hill to the president's pool for his regular exercising and surrounded his automobile.

"Where is my little boy, Jimmie?" he asked them, using the phrase by which he introduced his six-foot boy, James Roosevelt, to many rear platform audiences during his campaign travels.

James was to have attended the meeting of the executive committee of the organization yesterday in Atlanta and to have journeyed with his father to New York. He did not come to Warm Springs, however.

After his hour of swimming and exercising in the pool Mr. Roosevelt remained there for a picnic lunch arranged by the Associated Press this morning. He did not leave until 1:30 p. m. He was accompanied by Senator Bratton, of New Mexico, and several personal friends of Mr. Roosevelt.

SENATOR CARTER GLASS.

WEARY MARCHERS PRESENT APPEALS, QUIT WASHINGTON

Dole Seekers Begin Trek Back to Eastern and New England Homes After Making Demands.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Sorefooted and weary from a long march over the cold pavements of the capital and hoarse from shouting, jeering and singing, hundreds of demonstrators climbed aboard their trucks tonight for a long journey homeward.

One line of vehicles was headed toward Baltimore to carry home those from Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and New England. The other trucks started to serve for another night as lodging for marchers from the south and west who planned to be on their way early in the morning.

Behind them the demonstrators left a series of protests, demands and petitions. They were handed to Vice President Curtis, Speaker Garner and other governmental officials at intervals in an orderly march from the Capitol grounds and back again.

Sharp words passed between the vice president and the leaders of the marchers when they went to his office to submit their petition, later given the senate by Curtis. The demands were for immediate unemployment relief and unemployment insurance.

"These requests represent the minimum requirements for the people of Detroit, Mich., told the vice president. "We haven't much confidence that you will do it."

"That's that, no reflection on me," Curtis asserted emphatically, rising from his chair.

"That your body will put these demands in effect," Reynolds finished. A slightly different reception awaited another delegation from the columns which went to the office of Speaker Garner. He chided them for being late, telling them he had expected them almost an hour and a half before they arrived.

Herbert Benjamin, of Chicago, one of the principal sponsors of the demonstration, delivered the petition to the speaker.

Only 10 were permitted on each delegation despite vigorous protests to police by the demonstrators' leaders who had sought to send 25 to each.

They were selected previously and marched ahead of the parade proper on police duty. They even preceded the marchers' hand dressed in

PRESIDENT URGES BANKING REFORM, 'SILENT ON FARMS'

Beer as Source of Revenue Ignored Along With Agricultural Relief in This Administration's Last Annual Message.

SLASH IS ASKED IN VETERAN COSTS

Democrats Expected to Go Ahead With Own Program Which Includes Beer and FarmAid Ideas

Full Text of President's Message Appears in Page 8.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—President Hoover told congress today how he thought the budget might best be balanced and the nation restored to prosperity, recommending a general sales tax, wholesale government economies and particularly emphasizing reform of the banking laws, but making no mention of new agricultural relief legislation.

His proposal, submitted in his last annual message to congress, received a variegated reaction among the members, ranging from warm praise to sharp criticism and indifference.

The senate put off its best manners to hear a reading clerk drone out paragraph after paragraph of the communication which, many prohibitionists, members were quick to note, made no reference to legalizing and taxing beer.

The house meanwhile paid little attention as the message was read there. The legislators milled about in the corridors, conversing in low but audible tones. At the end it received scattered applause from the republican side.

A bold man were inclined to look askance at the sales tax proposal which aroused a bitter fight and eventually was defeated last year. A recommendation for a federal pig product averaging 14.8 per cent also was regarded as the forerunner of a battle.

The democratic leadership, soon to take full command of the house, heard the Hoover proposals and went ahead with its own plans to place a tax on legalized beer as a means, with economic aid, for a federal pig product.

There was general agreement between Mr. Hoover and the democrats on the necessity for banking reform and agricultural aid. The democrats were bringing this about in prospect to bring this about in the future.

In the field of international affairs, the president urged co-operation on the subjects of disarmament, economic and debt relief. He recommended postponement of the December 15 war debt payments but said he would have recommendations shortly incident to these payments.

GERMANY DIFFERS ON 'DAVIS PLAN'

New Arms Proposal Unacceptable to Former Monarchy.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 6.—(P)—The American "Davis plan," designed to attain something concrete in the way of disarmament, was declared today by German representatives to be unacceptable to Germany in its present form.

Differences between France and Germany over the questions of security and arms equality caused the first day of the five-power disarmament conference to end in a stalemate.

The "Davis plan" proposed that arms be immediately scaled down and that a permanent commission be established to settle the details of security, equality and other difficult points.

A formal communique revealed that Baron Konstantin Von Neurath, the German foreign minister, had "reserved his opinion" after fully expressing the German attitude toward these proposals which were advanced by Norman H. Davis, the American representative.

The German foreign minister asked that several points be cleared up, forming the representatives of the other powers that he would refer the answers to his questions to Berlin.

The conference participating in the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy—will meet again tomorrow. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, of Britain, and Premier Herriot, of France, will not be present, however, as they will be in Paris for a discussion of the war debt problem.

Members of the American delegation said that today's meeting reflected a spirit of accommodation and that from the standpoint of frankness the atmosphere was better than ever.

The Americans admitted, and the Italians confirmed, that proposals to hasten a Franco-Italian naval accord did not make much headway. The same was true, it was said, regarding discussion of the means of coping with the problem of tanks.

Insolvency Threatens N. Y. C., Says Berry

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(P)—New York city's solvency, said Comptroller Charles W. Berry today, depends upon its current ability to sell securities and collect taxes.

The comptroller, in testifying before the Hofstadter legislative committee, said the city's "present trouble is that it is almost impossible to sell New York city securities anywhere."

able, and that "one of the first and most important steps to be taken should be the reduction of government expenditures."

Paul Davis, president of the American National bank, of Nashville, Tenn., said he thought the most important thing now is to "reduce government expenditures about a billion dollars and settle the inter-governmental debt question."

Word H. Wood, president of the American Trust Company, of Charlotte, N. C., has found that "taxes now are intolerable and we can never hope to grow any more industrially while the present burden of taxes for business is carried," and that the only way to reduce them is by reducing the cost of government.

John M. Miller Jr., president of the First & Merchants National bank, of Richmond, Va., has found in his study of means for an economic recovery that "we must have foreign trade," and that "we cannot expect foreign trade in any considerable volume until there is a settlement of war debts and a revision of world tariffs."

He also found that economic recovery is dependent upon readjustment of war debts, which he added "cannot be forced," and that in "negotiating for a settlement representatives of the United States should insist upon a reduction of armaments and a revision of world tariffs."

CHURCH ASKS FUNDS TO FURTHER WORK OF HELPING NEEDY

Under the supervision of Dr. Felton Williams, pastor of the Wesley Memorial church, an emergency relief station has been opened to provide food, clothing and lodging to homeless people whose needs have not been provided for by other existing agencies.

This emergency relief station is operated at the Wesley Memorial church, where food is served, shoes repaired and clothing dispensed every day. Lodging is provided under the same auspices for an average of 126 men every night, it was said.

A financial campaign is being waged to raise a budget necessary to continue the work through the winter.

Hundreds of needy cases are turned away daily because of lack of sufficient funds during the severe weather, it was said.

SALES TAX ASKED BY WHITE HOUSE

Hoover's Message Also Recommends Further Drastic Economy.

was colored for the most part, by political views, with republicans giving their endorsement and democrats finding fault with various phases, particularly the recommendation for the sales tax.

Long Speaks Up

The reading of the message in the senate was followed immediately by a speech by Senator Long, democrat, Louisiana, criticizing the sales tax and demanding unified democratic support for a program aimed at the decentralization of wealth.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the republican leader, interrupted the reading of the message, and urged the senate to omit the long list of figures contained in two tables submitted by the president.

It appeared tonight that the democrats, assured of majorities in both house and senate by co-operation from the republican independents, would go ahead on their own program for the session—the beer tax and farm relief.

The chief executive devoted the longest sections of his comparatively brief message to criticism of the nation's banking system as having "failed to meet this great emergency." He did not specify methods of reform. The comprehensive bank bill of Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, is pending in the senate and has strong support.

Early in the message, Mr. Hoover made his sole comment upon the recent campaign: "While we have recently engaged in the aggressive contest of a national election, its very tranquility and the acceptance of its results furnish abundant proof of the strength of our institutions."

As for balancing the budget, he recommended that the proposed manufacturers' sales tax take the place of the "unjust and discriminatory" special manufacturers' excise levies enacted last session. He would exempt from the sales tax necessary food "and possibly some grades of clothing."

Other budget recommendations included: "Widespread re-organization of the government—with executive orders to be placed before congress 'within a few days' for re-arranging more than 50 federal departments and agencies. A flat pay slash of 11 per cent for one year for federal workers, with a $1,000 exemption, in addition to the 8-13 per cent furlough plan reduction to bring the total cut to "about 14.8 per cent."

Reduction in appropriations under those made by the last congressional session of $830,000,000, making a net economy of $580,000,000 because of an offsetting increase of $250,000,000 in "uncontrollable items."

Reduction of funds for public works from $717,262,000 to $442,769,000. Elimination of some veterans' payments arising from "ill-considered legislation."

The president asserted the banking system of the country had fallen short in furnishing the essential lubricant to the wheels of industry, agriculture and commerce.

"As a system," he said, "our banking has failed to meet this great emergency."

"It can be said without question of doubt that our losses and distress have been greatly augmented by its wholly inadequate organization. Its inability as a system to respond to our needs is today a constant drain upon progress toward recovery."

Explaining that he did not refer to individual banks or bankers, but to the system as a whole, the president nevertheless pointed out that bank failures rose in 1931 to 10.5 per cent of all banks as compared to 1.5 per cent of the failures of all other types of enterprise.

Since January 1, 1930, he said, the country has seen 4,665 banks with deposits of $5,300,000,000 close their doors.

"That this failure to function is unnecessary and is the fault of our particular system," he added, "is plainly indicated by the fact that in Great Britain, where the economic mechanism has suffered far greater shocks than our own, there has not been a single bank failure during the depression. Again in Canada, where the situation has been in large degree identical with our own, there have not been substantial bank failures."

Mr. Hoover pointed out that the Reconstruction Corporation and the federal reserve act "are not remedies; they are relief." He added it was "inconceivable" that the Reconstruction Corporation could go on indefinitely.

counts in the depositories are still short $513,900.

"This amount," Simmons said, "is a measure consists of credit on the docket paid by checks which were turned down by the bank which are being held and an effort being made to collect on them. Our office handles $180,000 a year, made up primarily of small items, paid largely by check and the normal number of clerical errors can easily account for slight variations during the course of the year. I feel that in concentrating this particular account in the hands of the chief docket clerk efficiency and accuracy will be obtained."

The audit shows that during the months of April, May, June, July, August and September total receipts of the trust funds in Simmons' care were $16,574,060 and that the total deposits during the six-month period were only $6,076,140. During the month of May the audit shows total receipts were $10,146,133 with no deposits made during the month. The balance, less the $513,900, was deposited after September 30, 1932.

In connection with the deposits, the auditors say:

"We wish to call special attention to the way in which the deposits were deposited in the depositories."

"All of the deposits after September 30 consisted of checks. This shows what is pure carelessness in not depositing the above as ordered. This carelessness might cause considerable embarrassment, as funds were paid out several months before the receipts were deposited. There is also danger of a check given on the trust fund being turned down by the bank on account of insufficient funds."

We also found in some cases where receipts were entered on the docket several months after the date of the checks paying in same. This makes it difficult for a satisfactory audit to be made of these funds."

LABOR SCHOOL STRIKE ENDS, STUDENTS QUIT

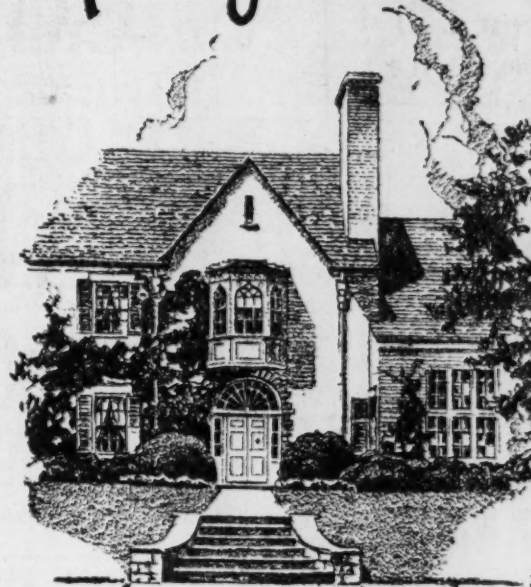

MENA, Ark., Dec. 6.—(P)—With the departure from the campus today of 30 students, authorities of Commonwealth College, resident labor school near here, tonight announced a four-day student strike was ended.

Exodus of the students, more than two-thirds of the student body, was quiet and orderly, and the management of the school said class work will proceed tomorrow as usual.

The strike began Saturday after suspension of two students on charges of "anti-social conduct." The striking students, however, charged the strike was the culmination of long efforts to have a governing body of students.

The school was charged with "hypocrisy" by the strikers. At one time the strikers had virtual control of the plant. They guarded the door of the library, dismantled the college truck to prevent faculty members from leaving the campus, and took over the management of the kitchen work.

Spring Hill

A Little World Of Its Own

ENTERING the parklike grounds of Spring Hill, beautiful and serene in the autumn sun, is like coming into a peaceful haven set apart from the rest of the world. . . . Inside, the sunlit rooms and corridors are furnished in the manner of a fine old Colonial home, breathing an air of warm hospitality.

There is no hushed silence here, but rather the cheerful quiet of a Sunday afternoon. With utmost privacy given to every family, there is no need for whispers or tiptoeing. Instead, everything is calm and normal, tending to relieve strained nerves.

Nowhere in the world, say mortuary authorities, is there another funeral establishment equal to Spring Hill. Atlanta families may obtain all this beauty and comfort at a lower cost, due to the greater volume of patronage given Patterson's by the people of the community. . . . State Political System Unethical, Dr. Gosnell Says in Lions Address

Asserting that "Georgia's political system is highly unethical and the only one of its kind in the Union," Dr. Cullen B. Gosnell, of Emory University, and president of the Southern Political Science Association, addressed the regular meeting of the Lions Club at the Henry Grady hotel Tuesday, along with J. H. Gray, manager of the Atlanta airport at Candler field, who discussed the safety factor in flying.

Showing that Fulton county with its enormous population is at a great disadvantage under the inequitable operation of the unit vote system, Dr. Gosnell said a small group of citizens really control the state government.

"Nomination in the democratic party," he said, "is tantamount to election in this state and with the unit rule applied, the 151 smallest counties contribute 242 unit votes. The 36 smallest counties have a combined population of 308,000 people and are represented in the general assembly by 46 members, whereas Fulton county, with a greater population than those combined counties—340,000 people—had only three representatives in the assembly."

Dr. Gosnell also pointed out the "inequality" of representation, based on the population of districts and that the smallest county in the state, in population, had only 2,744 inhabitants, with one representative in the legislature, whereas Fulton, with 340,000 people, has only three.

There were 10 counties," he added, "with 20 unit votes in the election of a governor, senator and other offices, which polled less than 300 votes each in the recent democratic primary. Fulton county polled more than 100,000 votes, or 22,117, for six unit votes."

The lecture was given under sponsorship of Dr. Roy Leedingham, who has inaugurated a series of monthly lectures by outstanding men on the subject of ethics. The next will be given the first Tuesday in January before the club.

Mr. Gray, discussing the safety of flying under government-regulated supervision, said records show that flying is the safest method of transportation at this time.

Rogers Buys Cattle

SCOTT W. ALLEN.

Accompanied by Governor-elect Eugene Talmadge and G. C. Adams, new commissioner of agriculture, Scott W. Allen, president of the Rogers stores, returned last Saturday from Chicago, where Mr. Allen bought a carload of fine cattle shown at the National Live Stock Show. The cattle will be killed and dressed and he on display at the local plant of Armour & Co. on December 19, 20 and 21, after which the meat will be sold in the Rogers markets. The finest cattle were selected, and the visitors were greatly impressed with the exhibit.

DECATUR TO ELECT COMMISSION TODAY

Approximately 2,500 Decatur citizens will go to the polls today to vote for their choice in the election of a city commission, with the three incumbents seeking to remain in office and their three opponents expressing confidence in their election.

Cliff Henderson, Hatch Cook and George Woods, the present office holders, are opposed by Vernon Frank, Homer George and Gerald Christian. The three polling places, located at the city hall, the rear of Redding's pharmacy on East Lake drive, and the East Lake pharmacy, on East Lake drive and Oak View road, will open at 6 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. In last-minute statements, the various candidates summed up their views briefly as follows:

Henderson and Cook contend that during their incumbency taxes have been cut sharply, saying that they are running on their past performances for an honest and business administration of municipal affairs.

George has contended during the campaign that he is untrammelled, that he is not the pawn of any clique or faction and that he has never stated he would work for the discharge of any city employee.

Christian expressed confidence at his election, promising good service. Woods also has cited his record and expressed confidence of the support of his friends.

Frank told voters that he would render efficient, honest service in the event of his selection. He said that he favors tax reduction and denied rumors which he said had been circulated to the effect that, if elected, he would discharge certain city employees.

FATHER AND SON INDICTED BY JURY IN DEKALB KILLING

DeKalb county grand jury Tuesday returned 10 indictments, two of which charge murder in recent county homicides. J. P. Brown and his son, J. P. Brown Jr., of Stone Mountain, were indicted on charges of murder in connection with the fatal shooting on the night of November 8 of Alvin Richardson at Stone Mountain. The Browns also were charged with assault with attempt to murder.

Ledford Nuckolls, who lives near Tucker, was indicted on a charge of murdering Owen Starnes on the night of November 18. Starnes was fatally wounded, it was alleged, in an altercation over ownership of a hog.

Other true bills returned were on minor matters.

Judge John B. Hutchison of the Stone Mountain superior court circuit, Tuesday informed the grand jury of his intention to hold 20 weeks of court sessions in 1933 instead of the customary 16 weeks in an effort to keep abreast of the congested calendar.

Judge Hutchison, in announcing his plan, pointed out that between 1920 and 1930 DeKalb county was credited with the greatest population growth of any Georgia county, and explained that the business of the courts has likewise increased, necessitating more attention of the presiding judge and officers.

Upham Reports Navy Is Now Undermanned

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—An assertion that the navy has insufficient men to maintain the efficiency and material upkeep of the fighting fleet was made today by Rear Admiral F. R. Upham, chief of the bureau of navigation, in his annual report to Secretary Adams.

Nor does the decreased number of enlisted personnel as provided for by congress, the admiral continued, admit of pronouncing the fleet as properly manned and "ready in case of an emergency." He added:

"Indications are not wanting that the present allowances of men to the vessels are considered not only as lowering the efficiency of the fleet, but also as seriously jeopardizing safe and reliable operation."

MRS. D. A. COLLINGS PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Mrs. D. A. Collings, of 250 Fourteenth street, N. E., died Tuesday morning at her residence, following an illness of a few weeks. Services are to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the residence with the Rev. J. Spruell Lyons officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Cleveland Wilcox, and a son, D. A. Collings Jr., of Atlanta. Mrs. Collings was a member of the First Presbyterian church. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Bringing with him his "entire pay roll of cook, chauffeur, nurse, automobile and two bulldozers," George Ade, the Indiana bachelor and humorist, has arrived for a winter stay. He spent his first day playing a "very bad round of golf."

Bullet Is Removed From Brain of Critz

BALTIMORE, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Robert C. Critz, cousin of the late Smith Reynolds, tobacco millionaire, was reported in a satisfactory condition tonight by physicians at the Johns Hopkins hospital, where he underwent a delicate operation earlier in the day for the removal of a bullet from his brain.

Dr. Walter E. Dandy, brain specialist, who performed the operation, said Critz, who is 37, would probably be confined to the institution for about two weeks.

The circumstances under which he received the wound were not revealed but he was found shot in the head in the bathroom of his Winston-Salem (N. C.) home on November 25.

4 NATIONS UPHOLD LEAGUE COVENANT

Japanese Position in Far Eastern Dispute Soundly Denounced.

GENEVA, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Four small nations—the Irish Free State, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Norway—launched a determined move in the League of Nations special assembly today for firm application of the League covenant in the Sino-Japanese dispute.

They demanded that the factual sections of the report of the Lytton investigating commission be adopted as the basis of settlement. This report held in its section on "conclusions" that the Japanese did not act in self-defense in the Mukden attack of September 18, 1931—the incident which started the conflict—and that the state of Manchukuo, now administering Manchuria, was not set up by the people spontaneously.

Joseph Connolly, for Ireland, urged

Congressmen's Quality Is Deplored by Baker
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 6.—(UP)—A plea for a congressional majority that is "a responsible majority" and for wisdom in dealing with world problems was made Monday night by Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, in a speech in Woolsey hall, Yale University.

Baker spoke of the difficulties between presidents and the legislative bodies.

"At times the president's influence has been reduced to zero. We have not elected to congress the choicest men from congressional districts in many cases. If we wanted a man to do a vital task for us we could not pick our congressman as the man to do it."

ing that the members of the League refuse to recognize Manchukuo, declared that the League cannot survive if the assembly fails to uphold the principles of the covenant.

Edouard Benes, of Czechoslovakia, said Japan's direct military action was a most grave precedent full of danger for small countries. He joined the Irish in supporting Secretary of State Stimson's doctrine of non-recognition of the fruits of aggression.

Osten Unden, for Sweden, and Christian L. Lange, for Norway, condemned the use of military force and insisted that the assembly must establish the terms of the scheme of solution.

ALABAMA DRYS RALLY TO STEM WET TIDE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 6.—Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, told a mass meeting of representatives of Protestant churches and prohibition organizations the new congress would submit a proposal for repeal of the 18th amendment, and the present congress "likely" would pass a "beer bill" which President Hoover would veto.

Bishop Ainsworth was sounding the keynote of the meeting which was called to hand together the dry organizations and churches "to present a united front against modification or repeal of the 18th amendment, and the Volstead law."

"There isn't a doubt in the minds of anyone here as to what that new congress expects to do," Dr. Hobbs said, adding that his audience had three months in which to act.

"Isn't it possible for us to create enough sentiment to make them feel like it would be better to be re-elected than to carry out their present platform pledges?" he asked.

"We are matched against the best brains in America," he said. "They have made fewer mistakes than any organization of a similar kind I have ever seen."

Expectant Mother Faces Electrocutation

YORK, S. C., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Beatrice Ferguson Snipes, who expects the birth of a child in a month, was convicted of murder by a York county jury today for the slaying last July 17 of Rural Policeman Elliott Harris, who was shot to death after he had stopped the Snipes' car to search it for liquor.

The conviction carries the death penalty. Mrs. Snipes is the first woman in South Carolina to face the electric chair.

Judge Thomas S. Sease did not immediately fix a date for Mrs. Snipes' execution. No motion for an appeal was made but the court, at the time the verdict was returned, was in the midst of another case.

Harris was shot four times after he stopped the Snipes' automobile and, failing to find any whiskey in it, attempted to arrest Clyde Snipes, the woman's husband, for reckless driving.

'Lucky Star' Influences Life Of Heifetz, Astrologer Says

From the Egyptians to the present day, astrology has been a science which has fascinated mankind. Every one uses the expression, "born under a lucky star," but few realize the full extent of the influence on the destiny of an individual of the cosmic forces.

One of the most famous astrologers of the decade, the late Evange-line Adams, recently analyzed the stars under which Heifetz, who will be heard in recital tomorrow evening at the city auditorium, was born.

Miss Adams said: "Jascha Heifetz has fulfilled his stars in the most extraordinary way. Everyone who has seen Heifetz has undoubtedly been impressed with his 'poker face.' Some may have thought that it indicates coldness or indifference or lack of emotional depth. Not at all. It indicates that Scorpio was rising at his birth; that it is his nature to wear a mask; that he would rather die than reveal his real feelings to the world. So, the great Heifetz must conceal his emotions behind an apparently unseeing eye. But the sign which was rising at the time of your birth decides only your personality, your superficial appearance to the world; it has nothing to do with your individuality, with your character, with the real you. And so it is with Heifetz. Superficially, he is as his audiences see him, secretive Scorpio. Actually, he is Aquarius, the sign of the man who pours himself out, as Heifetz does in his violin playing, on the whole world. Those who know Heifetz best know how true he is in his artistic and personal life to this Aquarian influence.

"In 1932 and 1933 he will be more closely under Venus than he has ever been, and more strongly under her influence than he will be again for 21 years. This means something—a richer fulfillment of his powers to entertain. Jupiter, the planet which brings wealth, honor and success, is now friendly to his moon, so 1932-1933 will be gala years for him.

For the convenience of patrons of the All-Star Concert series, electric bells have been installed in the lobby of the city auditorium. Everyone leaving their seat during intermission is requested to return promptly upon the ringing of the bells, in order to avoid confusion after the artist makes his appearance on the stage. The Heifetz concert will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock, and no late arrivals will be seated during the rendition of the opening sonata.

HINDENBURG GETS REICHSTAG LASH

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The new reichstag, deadlocked like the last one as far as party control is concerned, held its first meeting today and on the whole the meeting was less stormy than had been anticipated, although there was plenty of lively heckling from the communists.

Chancellor Kurt Von Schleicher got through the session without being forced to utilize the decree of dissolution that he had ready for any emergency. Various party motions, including attempts to vote non-confidence in the new ministry, were not reached at the meeting but will come up tomorrow.

The outstanding incident of the opening was a bitter attack on President Paul Von Hindenburg by General Karl Litzmann, 82-year-old follower of Adolf Hitler, who asserted history may curse the aged president for driving the nation into bolshevism.

"Hindenburg became the savior of Germany in November, 1918, with the assistance of Litzmann's brigade of infantry at Lud's," General Litzmann shouted. "That battle brought him a field marshal's baton. Today something more important than a baton is at stake."

"For Hindenburg it is a question of escaping the curse which history may lay upon him for having driven the German people into despair and delivered the country to bolshevism."

The general made this speech as the temporary presiding officer—a post that was his because he is the oldest member.

Only $12 Needed by Aid Society To Save Sight of 10-Year-Old Boy

BY MARY C. RAYMOND.

What would you do if you knew that Johnny, aged 10, was about to lose his eyesight, and that $12 would save it? That is just the fact about Johnny. Johnny lives in a very rural county in south Georgia. Threatened with blindness, and being unable to get medical attention so far out in the country where he lived, the Children's Service Society brought him into Atlanta, where he has had the attention of one of Atlanta's foremost specialists. The doctor is giving his services free, but he insists that Johnny must remain in Atlanta three weeks for treatment.

Now it will cost $12 to keep Johnny three weeks. His people are poor and cannot pay his board. The Children's Service Society is without funds. That society is dependent upon voluntary gifts of interested citizens, and the springs of benevolence have somehow dried up. There is no more money available.

It would be a wonderful Christmas present for Johnny to be given back his eyesight. Twelve dollars is all that is needed.

The Children's Service Society of Georgia is the only agency to which Johnny can turn for help in his trouble. It is a statewide agency, reaching into the farthest corners of the state seeking out children in need of state help.

Send your check for Johnny or for some of the other 400 children in dire straits, to The Constitution, or to the treasurer of the Children's Service Society of Georgia, J. Sherrard Kennedy, at the First National bank, in Atlanta.

Let that COLD Play Only a One-Night Stand!

Drive a Cold Out of the System Overnight by Quick and Proper Treatment

Don't temporize with a cold. A cold—or gripe—can quickly turn into something else. Be quick—be zealous—in your treatment of a cold. A cold can be expelled over night if you act promptly enough and use the right thing.

First, take a COLD remedy for a cold. A cold is a specific condition calling for a specific treatment. A cure-all is not a dependable remedy. A preparation that is good for a dozen ills and ailments can't be equally effective for a cold. Many popular remedies make the relief of a cold more difficult because they are constipating and also make the system acid.

Second, take a cold remedy administered internally. A cold is an internal infection and, as such, calls for internal treatment. Local, or outside applications, afford only temporary relief and do not reach the real seat of the trouble and do not prevent the infection from spreading within the system.

As Your Doctor Will Tell You—

Correct treatment for a cold is supplied in Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. As your doctor will tell you, no better prescription for a cold could be written. First of all, Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine opens the bowels, the first requisite in the treatment of a cold. Second, it kills the cold germs in the system, drives out the poisonous infection and reduces the fever. Third, it relieves the headache and that gripe feeling. Fourth, it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

This is the treatment you want for a cold and anything less is taking chances.

Safe for Young and Old

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is safe for young and old to take. It contains no narcotics and does not produce any bad after-effects. It does not upset the stomach, nauseate or make the head ring or swim. In dainty tablet form, it is convenient and pleasant to take, as well as effective. All over the world Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is regarded as the standard cold remedy. These famous tablets come in handy, pocket size boxes and are sold by every drug store in America.

Overnight!

Get a box of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine today as at the first sign of a cold, when the sneezing or headache begins, take a few of the tablets immediately. This is enough usually to stop the cold. Say "NO" to any dealer who tries to sell you a substitute.—(adv.)

WANDERWELL KILLER LEAVES SLIM CLUES

Georgia Girls Among Those Detained in Connection With Murder.

reaching the street and then ran out again, apparently pursued.

The widow suggested it might be a man she knew only as "Guy." This man, she said, accompanied them on a previous cruise to South America and was put ashore when he attempted a mutiny.

Two weeks ago, the widow related, this man came to their apartment in Hollywood and during an argument attempted to strangle Wanderwell. After a fight the adventurer succeded in beating his assailant off. She said this was the only man she knew who would have slain her husband.

It was while dinner was being served on the adventure yacht last night that the stranger appeared.

Cuthbert Wills, Englishman, signed as chief engineer, but who contributed passage money like all other members of the "crew" for the adventure, described it to the police.

First they heard a voice at the screen porthole. A middle-aged man clad in gray tweeds asked:

"Where's Captain Wanderwell?"

Wills walked through the galley and asked the man if he were the "electrician" who was expected. The stranger replied he was not, but knew "a lot about electricity" and demanded to be taken to the captain.

Wanderwell was standing on the deck, near his cabin, and the stranger was directed to him. A few moments later a shot was heard, and in the darkness of Wanderwell's cabin was found his body, slumped before a divan, one hand over his eyes.

No boat was seen to leave the yacht, nor was anyone seen leaving the dock to which the craft was moored.

The county autopsy surgeon, Dr. A. F. Wagner, announced late today the death wound was by a bullet from a .38 Caliber pistol of American make.

Montagu told detectives he owned a pistol of the caliber and make which Dr. Wagner said the wound was inflicted. He said he loaned the weapon to a friend a few days ago and this friend loaned the weapon to another man.

Detectives were detailed to investigate this new angle of the mystery.

Montagu identified himself as Lord Edward Eugene Fernando Montagu, son of the Duke of Manchester, British peer.

"I am a remittance man," he explained. "I've been wandering all over the world in search of adventure. I've been in and out of the United States for the past four years."

"I signed up as an ordinary seaman on the Carina."

"I was in the crew's quarters when Wanderwell was shot. That's all I know about it."

He said his wife, formerly Nora MacFarlane Potter, a Canadian girl, was living in Los Angeles. His mother, he said, was an American, Helen Zimmerman, of Cincinnati, before her marriage to the Duke of Manchester.

The willowy blonde widow of the adventurer related the story of her romance with Wanderwell.

"I first met the captain while I was attending school in the south of France," she said. "As we both enjoyed traveling, it naturally followed that I later joined one of his expeditions as interpreter."

"On returning from the expedition, I did not see the captain until several years later in California. We grew to love each other and were finally married in Riverside, Cal., in 1925."

They have two children, Valerio, 7, and Nila, 6, both of whom were asleep on the yacht when their father was slain.

Los Angeles records show Wanderwell was arrested here in March, 1925, with "Aloha Wanderwell," otherwise known as Glivis Hall, on federal charges of violating the national defense act which prohibits the wearing of any distinctive part of the American army uniform.

At that time the girl gave her age as 17 and said she joined Wanderwell's troupe in Paris in 1922 after he had adopted her as a sister. She was a native of Winnipeg, Canada.

Wanderwell and his first wife, Nell, were touring in separate parties then, supporting themselves by selling pictures and making lectures.

Records indicated he had been under investigation many times since 1917, when he was interned in the Atlanta stockade.

Detectives interrogating the members of the "adventure crew" said they ascertained the hunted middle-aged man in gray, suspected of killing Wanderwell, was seen stalking his prey two hours before the murder.

Ermund Zeranski, the cameraman from Delaware, told police he saw the stranger on the dock and recognized the face that peered through the porthole and asked for the captain as the same individual.

The part that pretty women were to play in the adventure plan of Wanderwell was under scrutiny even before the murder.

Detectives said agents of the department of justice had been checking the plans for the cruise because of the number of women who boarded the craft in Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors.

These were women, it was said, who wanted to take part in the thrilling sea adventure and who answered advertisements for stewardesses. Some of them were not so pretty, the detectives said, and these were turned away.

TWO GIRLS FORMERLY RESIDENTS OF ROCKMART Louise and Marian Smith, the two girls who are held in a Long Beach, Cal., jail in connection with the murder of Walter Wanderwell, formerly lived at Rockmart, where their relatives now reside. Louise went to Hollywood about two years ago, and was followed a year later by her sister, Marian.

Until recently they were at San Diego, but left there November 17, with the announced intention, according to word from Rockmart, of going on a world cruise. The next news from them was their arrest in connection with the shooting of Wanderwell.

Wanderwell, as a spectacular character, was well known in Atlanta. He

Roosevelt Highway Beautification Will Be Discussed Here Thursday

Beautification of the Roosevelt highway, extending from Atlanta to the Little White House which nestles among the pines of Warm Springs, Meriwether county, will be given impetus at a luncheon meeting to be given at 12:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Cator Woolford, founder of the Retail Credit Company, sponsor of the program, has extended invitations to civic leaders, hotel managers and operators, garage owners and mayors of cities along the route of the drive to make a continuous scenic highway out of which the nation's notables will travel to visit the president while he is at his Georgia home.

Roosevelt will spend much of his vacation in Georgia. Citizens of this state consider him a Georgian, and in tribute to him, they are planning to extend the Roosevelt highway from Warm Springs to Washington. The road from Atlanta to Warm Springs is now paved, but the Thursday meeting is expected to evolve a plan for its immediate beautification.

brothers, who reside in Canada. Sam Greenberg & Company will be in charge of funeral arrangements. The body to be brought to Atlanta today.

Services probably will be held at Immaculate Conception, it was said.

Father Phillips is assistant to Father Moylan at Immaculate Conception. He is about 43 years of age and came to Atlanta from New Orleans about two years ago.

THREE OTHER PERSONS DIE IN CRASHES HERE

In addition to Thomas C. Hamilton, widely known Atlantan, who was killed Tuesday in an accident in Florida, three other persons died within 12 hours Monday night and Tuesday morning in Atlanta hospitals as the result of injuries received in three automobile accidents.

A. R. Smith, 44, driver of a Guthman Laundry truck, and Clarence Smith, 20, of 582 Griffin street, N. E., Western Union messenger boy, died Tuesday morning, and Jack Morris, 44, veteran of the World War, died Monday night.

His skull fractured when his truck collided with a Stoddard Dry Cleaning Company truck in Rockhead more than a week ago. A. R. Smith was taken to the Georgia Baptist hospital, where he remained in a critical condition until his death. The collision badly damaged his machine but the driver of the other truck was not injured, it was said.

Clarence Smith received fatal injuries when he was knocked from his bicycle on Jones avenue Sunday morning while he was on his way to work, according to police reports. A charge of reckless driving was made against S. C. Posey, of 380 Jones avenue, said by police to have been the driver of the machine which struck young Smith.

Morris, whose body was taken Tuesday to Gadsden, Ala., for funeral services and interment by Harry G. Poole, was injured early Monday night when he walked into the side of a car driven by W. W. Clay, of Childress drive, who was slightly cut by flying glass. He was identified by army papers in his pocket. Morris was taken to Grady hospital, where he died an hour later.

Funeral services for Clarence Smith, who is survived by his mother, Mrs. Belle Smith, and two sisters, Annie Mae Smith and Mrs. W. E. Kilburne, of Ossining, N. Y., will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Peachtree chapel of Brandon, Bond & Condon. The Rev. Robert H. Lampkin and the Rev. W. M. Albert will officiate, and burial will be in C. St. Lawn cemetery.

Surviving A. R. Smith are his wife, four daughters, Mrs. W. T. Francis, Miss Madeline Smith, Miss Evelyn Smith and Miss Mabel Herndon; a son, Eugene Herndon; a sister, Mrs. W. M. Loda, and two brothers, Martin and Norman Smith, of Atlanta.

His funeral will be conducted by the Rev. M. A. Cooper at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the West End Baptist church, of which he was a member. Burial will be in Crest Lawn cemetery, with members of the A. E. Minor Lodge, F. & A. M., in charge of the graveside services. J. Austin Dillon Co. in charge.

INFLUENZA INCREASES.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 6.—(AP) Thirty-six of Alabama's 67 counties reported 3,047 cases of influenza at the close of the past week, marking a sharp increase over the previous week for the state at large.

John Hardisty's Home Is Damaged by Fire

The residence of John T. Hardisty, of 152 Westminster drive, well-known Atlanta lawyer and bridge player, was considerably damaged early Tuesday night by flames which were started by a defective flue, according to fire department records.

The blaze consumed part of the roof toward the rear of the one-story frame dwelling and damaged the attic. Three fire companies, under Assistant Chief Fanning, were called to the scene. The building is owned by J. R. Nutting.

Occupants of the Knox apartment house at 1403 West Peachtree fled their homes Tuesday when fire was discovered. The flames were confined to trash in a garbage chute and did no damage. A garage and a residence were damaged Tuesday morning at 1579 East street, N. E., by flames which were started by children playing with matches.

MAYOR KEY TO SPEAK BEFORE FULTON LODGE

Annual communication of Fulton Lodge No. 216, F. & A. M., will be held at the Masonic temple at 7:30 o'clock tonight, with W. S. Richardson, past master of Fulton lodge and grand master of Georgia, serving as master of ceremonies. Mayor James L. Key will be principal speaker.

A program of entertainment has been arranged. Among the entertainers will be Ted Doolittle, the "Village Nutsman," Perry Bechtel and his famous banjo, and the "Tuneful Twosome," radio stars of WGST.

FIRST LADY-TO-BE SINGS, BUT EVADES ROLE OF LEADER

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt attended tonight one of Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip's community sings in the Tower Hall, where a week ago former Governor Alfred E. Smith made his concert debut.

But Mrs. Roosevelt did not sing any solo. She did not even lead the singing.

"Oh, I couldn't," she exclaimed with a horrified expression when she was informed that a notice had gone out that she would lead the audience in "Happy Days Are Here Again."

"Why, I can't even carry a tune," she said. "I'm, however, while everyone else was singing, but kept a wary eye on the conductor, apparently apprehensive that he might run out on her. Then she made a little speech.

"On the whole," she said, "I think we are a rather self-conscious nation. It is good for us, I believe, to learn to sing together this way and forget about ourselves."

In addition to "Happy Days," the democratic national campaign song, the audience sang "Smiles" and "The Long Long Trail" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

L. T. COHU RESIGNS AS AIRWAY CHIEF

President of Aviation Corporation and American Airways Quits.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The re-organized board of directors of Aviation Corporation at their first meeting accepted the resignation of L. T. Cohu as president and chief executive officer of the corporation.

Cohu has had broad experience in the aviation field as chairman of the board of directors of the Thompson Aircraft Corporation and as a director and member of the executive committee of Pan-American Airways. He was chosen as a neutral member of the aviation corporation board.

L. D. Seymour, formerly vice president of the National Air Transport Company and United Air Lines, was chosen to succeed Cohu as president of American Airways, Inc., a subsidiary wholly owned and operated by the aviation corporation.

Charles Lanier Lawrence and C. Colburn Darling were elected directors to fill the existing vacancies on the aviation corporation board.

The corporation's executive committee and five subcommittees were abolished, along with the officers of chairman of the board, vice chairman and chairman of the executive committee.

Hoyt is a member of the banking firm of Hayden, Stone & Co. He issued a statement saying he had "studied the operating statements of the corporation and its subsidiaries and was impressed by the progress and efficiency shown" and expressing gratification that Cohu was remaining with the company as a director.

The new board of directors was organized recently as the result of a struggle between Cohu and E. L. Ford for control of the corporation. After a battle for proxies a compromise was reached on the makeup of the new board.

Artaud, Mullins, Huie Elected at Hapeville

Dr. Frank Artaud, M. D. Mullins and Oliver Huie Tuesday were elected councilmen by Hapeville voters, and on January 1 will take their places in the municipal government of the suburb.

Artaud is a member of the independent party, while Mullins and Huie belong to what is known as the citizens' ticket. Huie was running to succeed himself. Councilmen L. V. Hall and Robert McCall will retire from council.

Marvin Ansley, opposing Artaud, got 227 votes, while Artaud received 237. Mullins received 237 votes to 235 for Brown Tyler in the closest contest of the election. Huie mustered 275 votes to 171 for F. D. Stone.

LORD, LADY ASTOR AGREE TO CANCEL COMMITTEE VISIT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The much-heralded appearance of Lord and Lady Astor before the house foreign affairs committee is off, due perhaps to the unwanted flurry of international discussion.

Tomorrow the titled Britishers were to have visited the committee just next to the house chamber to give their views on world problems. It was intimated freely that perhaps England's war debt views might be talked of, pro and con.

But today, after a rush of conferences that began almost as soon as the meeting was arranged, Chairman McReynolds announced an "indefinite postponement," fully agreed to by all interested parties.

Capitol skeptics shrugged shoulders at the news and mentioned reports of concern in London lest the views of American-born Nancy Langhorne Astor and her titled husband be accepted as representing official sentiment. For there, Lady Astor sits in the house of commons and her husband in the house of lords.

When McReynolds was asked the cause of the sudden change, he replied: "Well, as a matter of fact, there never was any particular reason for their coming."

But at least this took place: Representative Fishburne, a democratic committee member in whose Virginia district Lady Astor once resided, arranged the hearing. McReynolds telephone Fishburne newspapermen would be present. Fishburne talked to Lord Astor, Peter Macdonald, conservative member of commons, had suggested in London that steps might be taken to prevent the appearance. Fishburne talked to McReynolds and the meeting was off.

3 ZONING PETITIONS FACE BOARD TODAY

Universal Language Certain, Dr. Feuchtwanger Asserts

BY BEN COOPER.

"As surely as terms of horses and oxen are replaced by the motor car, so surely will national languages be superseded by a universal one," Dr. Lion Feuchtwanger, German author of "Fanny," "Succes" and "The Ugly Duchess," Tuesday told a large group of Atlanta women in a lecture on nationalism as one of the Atlanta University Series at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Dr. Feuchtwanger, a master of the historical novel, said that barbarism has made tremendous gains since the World War and that "the nation of barbarians (people who want to destroy with war and unrest) has a majority among the white peoples." The ultimate thing, he concluded, is whether the human race is going to revert to barbarism or keep going upward.

The American type has been created by the adult individual striking out his past and letting nothing count but his present, Dr. Feuchtwanger observed. Before the war nationalism was rampant and although it had been thought that it would go out it now is stronger than ever, he said.

Nationalism knows no political boundaries, but is based on four ideologies: Common religion, common race, common history and common language, Dr. Feuchtwanger said.

"As the consequence of the war, Europe has become barbarized, while America has become more meditative," Dr. Feuchtwanger said. "Individuality was the highest ideal before the war, but in the war the individual, looting under mob consciousness, covered his own deficiencies with the shimmering garment of national glory. As, for instance, Signor Rossi, of Italy, a nobody a few years ago, now has a share of what Mussolini has done. Signor Rossi is somebody. He is a part of Mussolini."

Dr. Feuchtwanger had little good to say for Adolf Hitler, whose meteoric rise in Germany has challenged the interest of the world. Hitler's party, the national-socialist, was "organized on the theory of 'race,' and yet only one race, the German race, has German characteristics," he said. "And the leaders, the Hitlers and Goebbels, do not have German characteristics at all." Dr. Feuchtwanger referred to Hitler as "that German demagogue, who has vulgarized the word 'race'."

In expanding on his idea that the world is developing a universal language, Dr. Feuchtwanger pointed out that all new words, such as sociology, psychology, tank, are common to the world, and when pronounced are easily recognized for their correct meaning by people anywhere.

Christmas Gift Committee's Work To Take Cheer Into Barren Homes

BY EDNA LEE.

See Mary Ellen . . . the mother with her brood of five children. Mary Ellen . . . such a young mother. . . such an adoring mother. . .

Such a worried mother since daddy lost his job two years ago. Worried about patches on tattered little clothes, worried about tiny scuffed shoes . . . about little empty stomachs.

Worried now . . . most of all. For Christmas is coming.

She hears them talking . . . her two eldest. With heads close together . . . with eyes bright and eager . . . their talk of old Santa and what he will bring.

John is . . . the 7-year-old . . . wise beyond his years . . . wants a cool chest. But gallantly he says "aw, just anything."

Not just anything for Totty, the 5-year-old. Clearly and in her funny tinkling voice she declares: "A doll and doll carriage."

And Mary Ellen's heart nearly breaks over Totty . . . her funny little kid with the fine-spun hair that blows every-which way . . . her little nose . . . her air of suppressed excitement as she hugs her knees.

Suddenly—as Mary Ellen watches—she screws her blue eyes close together . . . and shoulders with delight. "Oh, my goodness!" she breathes. "my own doll and doll carriage."

A big tear trickles down Mary Ellen's nose and spatters on the patch in her hair.

She feels that she can't bear it if Totty can't have that doll and carriage.

How she wanted them last year . . . funny little kid. And last year when the kind people sent the basket . . . Totty had nearly burst.

with excitement as she unwrapped her own tissue-wrapped gift.

A game!

Mary Ellen would never forget that Christmas morning. Would never forget Totty . . . running up and down the sidewalk . . . never forget Totty coming in at noon to exclaim "Oh! I've had the greatest time looking at the other little dolls and carriages."

But Mary Ellen needn't worry. This year Totty will have her doll and carriage. This year—in your Atlanta—you have the Christmas Gift Committee.

It's composed of Atlanta men and women . . . this committee . . . and this is their creed: "Not one must be overlooked. No one must be disappointed. Not one must be ashamed."

Through the Community Chest and its agencies they will hunt out every single need . . . and answer that need . . . just as it should be answered.

And this year Mary Ellen will provide her little family with Christmas cheer . . . and no one but Mary Ellen and Daddy will know who the real Santa is . . . all the Mary Ellens . . . all the Johns.

Of course it is. So co-operate. Give this year . . . more than ever before . . . and above all . . . that your gift may do the most good . . . give through the Community Chest and its agencies.

Gandhi Drafts Appeal Woman Seeks Million To Aid 'Untouchables' In Heart Balm Suit

POONA, India, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Mahatma Gandhi today issued a proclamation calling on all India to celebrate "anti-untouchability" day on December 18.

Sitting under his favorite mango tree in the yard of Yeroda jail, the nationalist leader drafted a program designed as an appeal to the masses completely to eradicate the doctrine of untouchability.

He urges that all Hindu leaders, on December 18, visit quarters inhabited by the depressed classes and conduct door-to-door collections to raise funds for sports, games, music, recitals, processions and other public functions in which all castes shall mingle.

DETROIT, Dec. 6.—(AP)—A $1,000,000 alienation of affections suit today climaxed the 25-year-old romance that led last month to the marriage of Mrs. Gail Stephens, heiress to a Michigan lumber fortune, and Dr. Kerwin W. Kinard, Kansas City, Mo., surgeon.

MESSENGER RETURNS EDISON DOCUMENTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Documents on the early life of Thomas A. Edison and the discovery and quest of South America which were stolen yesterday were returned by messenger tonight to their owner, Dr. Joyce M. Corbocho.

The papers, valued by Dr. Corbocho at $50,000, were taken by three men who represented themselves as city detectives investigating the recent theft of a manuscript of Sir Walter Scott, owned by J. P. Morgan.

A Man-Sized Job.

By Zane Grey

PARIS LOVE

By Nina Wilcox Putnam

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Since the death of her husband 10 years previously, Kate Sayers had made $50,000 in France of the now famous motor car Europa. Alfredo Santini, whom she knew only as a gigolo and driver of racing cars, was the man who had been in constant attendance on her, and who was in constant attendance on her, was chief of a gang of jewel thieves. As soon as she had been married, she had been a saleswoman at Piron's, handling the jewelry which had come from several times by substituting imitation gems. Mrs. Sayers' daughter, Alicia, had unwittingly inherited these gems by buying a diamond necklace before the arrival of an acquaintance. Alicia had been a very successful saleswoman at Piron's, and she had been a very successful saleswoman at Piron's, and she had been a very successful saleswoman at Piron's.

but the beautiful weather which had gladdened the hearts of Parisians for the past two weeks, had broken suddenly, and several big drops of rain already spattered on the windshield, promising a heavy downpour within a very few minutes. But when Alicia entered the garage, there was no place for her roadster.

In the space her own car usually occupied, stood its duplicate. Except for the fact that a suitcase was wrapped in a tarpaulin was strapped on behind, there was nothing by which the two could be told apart. Evidently Santini was prepared to start, and Alicia's heart sank at the thought, for somehow she had not been convinced of the driver's virtues by the colorless nature of his record in the police archives. Her every instinct told her that there was something wrong with this man, yet apparently there was nothing to be done. In a few moments he would drive away to the great race which was to be run amidst the flowery and sunshine of the Riviera, and what would be the outcome? Unpleasant rumors, perhaps a scandal in the motor world, or a clean victory.

She shook her head dubiously, and ran her hand across the radiator, almost as affectionately as if the racing car had been alive. Then, brushing sentiment aside, she set about an examination of the monster, running a critical eye over the immense engine beneath the gray hood and noting with satisfaction its well oiled, clean state, wondering the while, just exactly how one went about throwing a race? Obviously the simplest method would be to arrange matters so that the condition of the car itself could be blamed. Once in her mind, this idea was almost ready to dislodge Alicia knew almost as much about the Europa as the head mechanic at the official garage, and the temptation to check up before Santini's departure was almost irresistible. She realized that after the thousand-mile trip to the south coast, this examination would be of little or no value when it came to evidence; but it would give her immense personal satisfaction to be sure that on the car's departure from Paris all had been well. She wondered where Santini's mechanic might be, thinking to call him and have him start up the engine for her. Then she decided that this was unnecessary. The man was undoubtedly enjoying a hot supper in the kitchen, preparatory to the long night's run, and it was a pity to disturb him needlessly.

Slipping off the hand brake, Alicia gave the car a mighty shove, and it rolled easily onto the floor where the light was better, carrying her with it on the running board. Then she arrested its further progress and jumped down. As she did so the sleeve of her rough tweed coat caught in something, and she saw that one of the screws which held the windshield in place was almost ready to fall out. It was of the very smallest importance and the loss of the screw would have meant absolutely nothing, not even a rattle in the windshield frame, but she was in a mood to be critical. Delighted at having so promptly found a small detail which needed attending to, Alicia looked about for a screwdriver. Her instinct was to take one from the pocket of her own car, but the rain was falling in torrents now, so she went to the chest where Scott kept his kit of tools for general use. They were in immaculate shape, but the one she needed was missing, and it was then that she remembered "he key to her own tool box was in her pocket. It would, of course, fit the hole in the running board of Santini's car, and his was certain to be well supplied.

Crouching at the side of the Europa she tried her key. It fitted, and she lifted the lid. The tool box was far from tidy, and she had some difficulty in finding what she wanted. But grubbing at the trash, she finally discovered it under a dirty little bag of old chamois, on which lay a cigarette butt with a curious mouthpiece of green bambou.

Alicia stared at the cigarette end for several seconds, some dim recollection stirring in the back of her memory. Where had she noticed a cigarette with a green tip? It was unusual enough to have attracted attention anywhere, and was associated in her mind with some important event. Presently it occurred to her that she'd seen it on the day when

Aunt Het

"Your car," she challenged. "It's my car, actually, and I'm driving it when and how I choose!" Before answering, he pushed past her, almost knocking her over in his furious haste, and slipped the screw which he had found in the tool-box, removing the key.

"So long as I drive it, this car is mine!" he roared at her. "I forbid you to lay a hand on it. I am responsible for its condition until after the race, and I am shocked and surprised at your interference." Now that the tool-box was open, he seemed to calm down a little, but he shook the key he had removed at her in a threatening way. "How dare I ask, do you come to have a duplicate key? Is your factory full of them?"

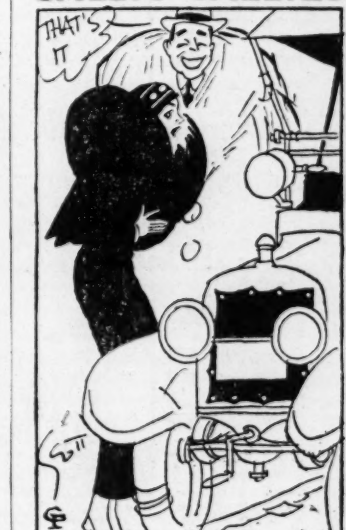

"That key is mine!" said Alicia, coolly, taking it from him. "The car is mine, as you perfectly well know. As for my doing the slightest harm, that is ridiculous. I can handle any car as well as you can, Santini, and I think you are aware that I have particular reason for wishing to have this one reach Monte Carlo in good shape." If he read any hidden meaning behind her level glance, he did not betray the fact.

"I don't mean to disparage your knowledge of cars, Mademoiselle Alicia," he said more mildly, "nor your acknowledged skill as a driver. But I still insist that you must not interfere with this one while it is in my charge." He turned to Mrs. Sayers with a look which asked for confirmation and immediately the older woman rallied to his support.

"He's quite right, Alicia," said Mrs. Sayers. "You had no business fooling with it. If anything went wrong, he'd get the blame. Stand away now, child, can't you see they are trying to get off with you?"

Rotary put on the football banquet Tuesday noon which should be carefully wrapped in cellophane and preserved for the future as a model.

The football players were introduced and the football reporters were introduced. And there were no speeches from any of them.

And Jake Harris ad-libbed and carried on a line of patter with some excellent gags contained therein—one especially catching the ear—Wonder what a football official thinks about during the game?—and then Enoch (Nuck) Brown made the only talk of the day.

Mr. Brown is a newspaper man and an excellent speaker; he did not pinch the eagle to make it scream; he did not once exclaim "Tennyson's heroic figures; not once did he soar off into the lambs of poetry or prose. He made a talk with a lot of horse sense in it. And he told a good story. Which is more than most speeches contain.

"I recall a high school game best," he said. "We were coached by a Latin teacher who knew more Latin than he did football. And before a particular game he read up on the rules and got a safety and a touchback mixed up. And he told us when we had to punt from behind the goal line to simply put an X on the punt signal and that meant to touch the ball down and not kick it. When we got in that position he was so excited he kept yelling 'X-X-X' from the sidelines. And so we touched the ball down while leading 7 to 6 and that beat us 8 to 7."

Mr. Brown, who happens to be advertising manager of The Constitution, was an All-Southern end at Vanderbilt about 20 years ago. The Tech players liked his speech. And they liked the manner in which Rotary ran off the program.

Jake Harris had dug up some of the inside secrets of the football team. And he had them roaring. And he had them all roaring with a letter purporting to be from a young lady on the coast who had a couple of dumb girl friends who she thought would be congenial with a couple of second string quarterbacks or football officials.

It was a most excellent meeting as all football banquets mean to be but often are not. Rotary knows how.

WHY NOT EXPLAIN?

The football officials, it seems, object to the Monday morning quarterbacks. It seems to me that if it were not for the Monday morning quarterbacks and the newspapers who are willing to pay them for quarterbacking, there would be very little interest indeed in football or the football officials—practically none at all, I am afraid.

And so, while the Monday morning or the Tuesday morning or afternoon quarterback may be entirely wrong to criticize an official who is always on hand to get his pay check and his expense money, the quarterback is quite necessary to the game and probably correct just as often as an official.

It is too bad that they cannot train baseball umpires to be come football officials. Because their skin is much thicker. And they do not mind conferring with the base umpire when they feel they may have booted one, so to speak. And they do not get hurt when some rude person in the stands, who has paid his two dollars, yells something rude at them.

The newspaper quarterbacks can't understand, for instance, why a decision can't be changed. A minute or so lost in delaying the game would harm things a great deal. The newspaper quarterbacks may be very dumb indeed but they cannot see why a mistake once made must stay right that way although the officials may know instantly that it is made.

The officials, least of all, try to give the spectator an idea of what is going on. A list of signals were arranged so that the spectator could turn to page three and see what they meant. But the few officials who use the signals do so very carelessly indeed. And the newspaper quarterbacks, sitting patiently in their cage, have to guess whether a 15-yard penalty was inflicted because John Doe kicked Sam Smith or whether it was for holding or for what.

It is all very mysterious but perhaps it is all right. All the newspaper quarterback does is keep the public interested in the sport and so I suppose it is all right to take slaps at him and wonder why he is such an absurd fellow.

It is barely possible that there are two sides to this question as well as others.

ALWAYS GETS ITS MAN.

It would seem that the A. A. U. is something like the North-western Mounted—it always gets its man. Except in this case they get The Babe, Mildred Didrikson.

To those who have been sitting around in the role of observers it seems that the A. A. U. has been a bit hostile toward The Babe ever since she ran the legs off the girls of other nations and her own country.

They harassed her in the Olympic trouts and the stories of the Olympic games carried news that the officials were often putting The Babe in her place, so to speak. And The Babe charged that she was mistreated by some little officious official when she refused to go on an Olympic tour after the games.

And now they have ruled The Babe is a pro because she said a certain automobile was a nice automobile and had her picture run with the car. She was hurdling in the picture and not driving the car or the good old A. A. U. might have asked for a jail sentence.

It is no wonder that more and more athletes are getting very disrespectful indeed in their opinions of the A. A. U. It is my opinion that the A. A. U., which seems to spend most of its time seeking hairs to split, is destroying what regard is left for the sports under the control of the A. A. U.

I suppose there must always be pompous badge wearers, big and little. And they will always be trying to "catch" people violating rules. And I wonder if it is true, as The Babe said, that the A. A. U. had been urging her to go out and run in exhibitions so that the A. A. U. might make money—and that they became very angry when she stuck to her job?

We may expect a long diatribe about the sanctity of amateur athletics and the noble efforts of the A. A. U. to preserve the purity of the races and the jumps and the vaults.

And I hope The Babe is able to make the badge wearers back-track as did Big Bill Tilden when the tennis badge wearers tried to hamper him.

BETTER NEXT YEAR, SAYS NEYLAND.

Coach Bob Neyland, of Tennessee, believes that his next year's football team will be considerably better than the one of this year which seems to be favored as champions by a majority of the football reporters.

It seems there is no chance of the Tennessee dynasty coming to an end. "I did not expect this year's team to come through nearly as well as it did," said Major Neyland. "I do not think there were many good teams this year, not as many as we usually have."

This will no doubt cause much moaning and gnashing of teeth on the part of Tennessee's opponents who found the Vols very tough indeed this season.

This would also seem to silence the persistent reports that Major Neyland will leave Tennessee before next fall. Unless some radical order by the war department removes the major from his post at Chattanooga he will be back.

The report, however, persists.

BABE DIDRIKSON BLAMES OFFICIAL; BATTLE IS SEEN

Charges A.A.U. Officials Have Hounded Her To Become Professional.

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Babe Didrikson, world's greatest woman athlete, declared today that if any one was to blame for the incident resulting in her disqualification as an amateur it was Foster Jacoby, Texas A. A. U. official.

In a statement given out through Homer Mitchell, her employer, Miss Didrikson stated she did not give her consent to publication of her picture in an advertisement of a new automobile model, the grounds for her suspension by A. A. U. officials.

"A few days ago Foster Jacoby, Texas A. A. U. official, came to me and wanted me to go with him to a local automobile dealer. I consented. Mr. Jacoby, Gordon Perry, owner of the automobile agency, and myself got into one of the new cars and drove around a bit. They both tried to get me to sign an endorsement of the car. I told Mr. Jacoby, the A. A. U. official, that it would impair my amateur standing. He didn't seem to think so, but I refused to sign.

"I did have my picture made with the car, but strictly for the purpose of not using it in any kind of promotion work. The next thing I hear is my suspension. If any one is to blame, it is A. A. U. representative, who has been trying to get me to turn professional since my victories in the Olympics at Los Angeles."

Mitchell, an insurance man, said he intends to fight for Miss Didrikson's reinstatement through the courts if necessary.

"Because of the A. A. U. we have had to fight to retain Babe's amateur standing, and it looks like we have just started to fight to get her A. A. U. from making her turn professional so that a few of the A. A. U. officials can reap the harvest," he said.

Mitchell wired J. Lyman Bingham, assistant president of the A. A. U. at Chicago, asking him to come to Dallas at Mitchell's expense and investigate the case.

Babe Requests An Investigation.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, today said he had received a telegram from Mildred Babe Didrikson asking an investigation to prove her contention that an advertisement carrying her alleged endorsement of an automobile was printed without her permission.

Ferris said he had referred the matter to L. Di Benedetto, of the southern association, at New Orleans, under whose jurisdiction the question would fall.

In her telegram to Ferris Miss Didrikson did not mention Foster Jacoby, A. A. U. commissioner at Dallas, whom she charged with soliciting the endorsement for the automobile in a statement at Dallas today.

OLD CHAMPION WINS CUE MATCH

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Seeking one more time to hold the title two decades ago, Bennie Allen, of Kansas City, today opened his comeback campaign with a brilliant exhibition of shot making in the final round of the 42-year-old veteran's tournament at the Capital Billiard Academy.

The 42-year-old veteran handling the cue with the same technique he carried into the billiard heights in three successive years, 1913-1915, soundly trounced his fellow townsman, Walter Franklin, 125 to 74, in 13 innings.

Frank Taborski, of Schenectady, N. Y., also a former champion, found the going difficult, however, falling before the consistent playing of Pasquale Natale, of Chicago, many times a challenger but never a champion. Natale won, 125 to 65, in 26 innings.

Allen probably never played better billiards than as he turned back his rival, who remained in the thick of the fight until the last two innings, with a series of difficult shots that threatened for eight frames to spoil Allen's comeback.

The former champion hit his stride in the twelfth inning, however, and with a run of 28 passed Franklin. He then rolled off five balls after Franklin had pocketed 15 in his half of the twelfth. Allen slowly dropped one after another of the colored ovals in the pocket, scored 46—his high run of the game, and enough to win.

Natale apparently could do nothing wrong in his match with Taborski. "Grey Fox" of Schenectady, Taborski tried to stop the quiet little Italian with a series of safety plays in the early innings but Natale encountered his running 15 in the second inning and then pocketing 47 in the sixth to take a lead he never relinquished.

Another run of 21 in the fifth frame gave Natale a lead of 100 to 26. Taborski rallied in the twenty-fourth inning to score his high run of 25, but Natale's lead was too great to overcome.

Big Six Quintets Open Cards Tonight

A major basketball teams of this section of Georgia will start their season tonight at the Y. M. C. A. when three games of the "Big Six" league will be played. The Eastern Air Transport Company is taking the last vacancy that existed in the league and will open their season tonight against the Y. M. C. A. team in the first game. The E. A. T. team is captained by Allie Wilder, a veteran on league courts.

The Parks-Chambers team plays LaGrange Y. M. C. A. in the second game at 8 o'clock.

The Federal Employers play Gulf Refining Company at 9 o'clock.

The Schedule.
Y. M. C. A.—Atlanta Y. M. C. A. vs. Eastern Air Transport.

Army Gives Navy, Notre Dame Dates

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Army will reverse its campaign of battle against two dixie foes next year, playing Navy on November 25 and closing the season with Notre Dame in New York December 2.

In confirming these dates today, Major Philip Fleming, retiring graduate manager of athletics at West Point, set at rest all talk about the slightest prospect of a rift in the Army-Notre Dame rivalry. Contracts already have been signed for the 1933 game.

Army's 1933 gridiron slate, nearly completed, includes a renewal of relations with Illinois.

CULLOP DESIRES TO PLAY BALL FOR CRACKERS

Deals Being Held Up
Pending Arrival of Manager Moore.

By Jimmy Jones.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 6.—As the David Harms of minor league baseball assembled here today to talk shop (mostly talk) Atlanta's contingent ran into nothing more exciting than a very strong desire on the part of Nick Culllop, the blond blond-geon of the good old days at Ponce de Leon, to play ball for the Crackers again.

Culllop, who virtually hit the Crackers into a pennant and since has played a while at Brooklyn and Cincinnati, butted into Wilbert Robinson for an informal chat today and made the confession.

Nick performed this year partially for Rochester and an American association club. He told Robinson that he had his release and all he wanted was an offer to play ball for him.

"I'm still crazy about Atlanta and I could always hit for a million down there," Culllop stated.

Deals with Culllop or any one else are held up, pending the arrival of Charley Moore, the Crackers' new manager, who was reported en route from Louisville.

Atlanta's contingent, composed of Robinson, Chick Roos, Napoleon Rucker and a couple of newspapermen arrived here today at noon and immediately began looking about. It seemed that everybody was here but the necessary parties with which to do business.

Driscoll and Mulvey, who represents the Elberts-McKee interest of the Brooklyn club, will be here tomorrow along with Moore, and it is then that Nap Rucker, the sore-tongued Brooklyn scout, will go into conference with the Dodger crowd in an effort to swing a deal or so for his old friends, Robinson and Moore. Rucker is a sort of go-between man at this conference, since he is the head scout for Brooklyn and on good terms with both the higher-ups of that club and the new officials at Atlanta. The long-standing aloofness that has existed between Robinson and Judge Steve McKeever, now the Brooklyn president, is expected to be considerably softened by Nap Rucker's genial Georgia drawl.

BOONE AND OUTEN.
The ball players now under the Brooklyn banner that Rucker would like very much to see come to Atlanta are the Boone, the hard-hitting outfielder from Alabama; "Chink" Outen, a catcher, and couple of winning pitchers by name of Mattingly and Keider.

Since Brooklyn has no particular use for these players in its 1933 plans Rucker is of the opinion that Atlanta might acquire them, either for a nominal cash sum or through a trade. The Crackers, however, as that which exists between New Orleans and Cleveland. In the latter instance Atlanta might also acquire the Boone, the hard-hitting outfielder, who is a catcher, and couple of winning pitchers by name of Mattingly and Keider.

Meanwhile, pending the arrival of the Brooklyn group, the Southern league owners sought to do business with Atlanta.

Doc Frothing and Frank Longinotti, representing the Brooklyn interests, are seeking to trade the Crackers a couple of tried and true class "A" players (thought to be Harry Kelly and Clarence Griffith) for a rookie outfielder, whom Rucker says will make Atlanta an ideal class "B" man.

A California 'Bear'

Henry (Hank) Schaldach, halfback on the California football team which will play Tech Saturday, December 17, at Berkeley, Cal. Schaldach is one of the outstanding backs on the west coast, and, in addition to being an excellent passer, ranks among the leaders in carrying the ball this season. Schaldach was a star in the Golden Bear's victory over the Jackets at Grant field last December.

LUMPKIN, NASH ON STAR TEAM

By George Kirksey,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—(UP)—The United Press today selected its all-star team from the National Professional Football League.

Rocky Wolfe, tackle of the Chicago Bears and Cardinals, Coach Patcy Clark, of Portsmouth, and Coach Ralph Hones, of the Bears, added in selecting the 11 best players in a league, which ranks as the fastest in operation.

The selections:
Ray Flaherty, end, New York Giants, Gonzaga.
Cal Hubbard, tackle, Green Bay Packers, Geneva.
Grover Emerson, guard, Portsmouth, Tex.

Tim Moynihan, center, Chicago Cardinals, Notre Dame.
Julius Carlson, guard, Chicago Bears, Oregon State.
Len Grant, tackle, New York Giants, New York University.

Tom Nash, end, Green Bay Packers, Georgia Tech.
Earl Clark, quarterback, Portsmouth, Colorado College.
Arnold Herber, halfback, Green Bay Packers, St. Regis College.

Ray Lumpkin, halfback, Portsmouth, Georgia Tech.
Bronko Nagurski, Chicago Bears, Minnesota.

The team is powerful in every position. The backfield is composed of four of the greatest players who ever crowded down a zillion and the line of aggressive men who have proved their worth in many games.

Earl Clark at quarterback is unquestionably one of the greatest players in history, and was rated by this writer in a recent article as the greatest all-around star in the country.

For a second team, the committee selected Dilweg, of Green Bay, and Hewitt, of the Bears, as ends; Christenson, of Portsmouth, and Gordon, of the Cardinals, as tackles; Zeller, of Green Bay, and Kopeha, of the Bears, for guards; Baragar, of Green Bay, as center; Moleworth, of the Bears, for quarterback; Presnell, of Portsmouth, and Campiglio, of Stapleton, as halfbacks, and Hinkle, of Green Bay, for fullback.

System Gives Tennessee Title

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Under the Dickinson system of rating football teams, the championship of the Southern conference belongs to Major Bob Neyland's Tennessee eleven.

Although tied once, Tennessee outranked Alabama Poly, also tied, and Louisiana State, which finished the season undefeated. The ranking, announced today by Professor Frank C. Dickinson, of the University of Illinois, originator of the system, follows:

TEAM W. L. T. Rating
Alabama Poly 6 0 1 23.50
Louisiana State 4 0 0 20.00
Alabama 5 2 0 20.71
Vanderbilt 4 1 2 20.00

During his talk with the graduate manager, Grayson said: "The reporter got me on to bed early this morning and asked me about transferring to Temple. I told him some of the players had been kidding each other last night about transferring. Then the reporter hung up on me. I haven't any intention of leaving Stanford and so far as I know, none of my teammates intends to."

Precisely it had been reported the pick of the freshman squad would follow Warner to Temple. Besides Grayson, they included Bob Hamilton, of Seaside, Pa.; Bob Reynolds, of Okmulgee, Okla., and Frank Alusti, of Stockton, all halfbacks.

Coach Warner, bedridden at his home here with a cold, scoffed at the idea of the youths leaving, saying: "I think that's a lot of loose talk. The boys are stricken with a temporary reaction. I think they will stick here. I am certainly not doing anything to bring them back."

Warner pointed out Temple has a one-year eligibility rule which would prohibit the youths from playing in 1933.

CAREY ILL.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 6.—(UP)—A "touch of the flu" has forced Max Carey, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to omit attendance at the minor league baseball meetings this week.

Regular amateur free-for-all races, with a large number of local skaters participating, were held Tuesday night at the rink.

After training for seven laps, Powers came from behind in the closing seconds of the race to nose out Hennings in a spectacular finish. Powers had to overcome a handicap of two yards imposed when he "jumped" the whistle at the start, in winning.

Announcement was made at the Tuesday night races that "novice" races, with all winners of previous races barred, would be held Friday night, with free skating tickets offered to the winners.

RACE BILL VOTED.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 6.—(AP) The Springfield daily license fee of race tracks by $1,000, introduced as an unemployment relief measure but amended so as to increase the mutual "take" of the track operators from 1-2 to 8-12 per cent, was voted by Governor L. L. Emmerson today.

FRESHMEN DENY MUTINY REPORT

PALO ALTO, Cal., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Reports that several Stanford freshmen football players would follow Coach Glenn S. (Pop) Warner to Temple University were denied today by Graduate Manager Alfred Masters after a talk with the supposed spokesman of the group, Bob Grayson.

Grayson, star halfback on the freshman squad this season, had been credited in an interview with a San Francisco newspaper with the statement: "Sure, I'm going back to Temple. I came down from Portland to play under 'Pop' and I'm going to go with him."

During his talk with the graduate manager, Grayson said: "The reporter got me on to bed early this morning and asked me about transferring to Temple. JACKET MIDGET TO GET CHANCE AGAINST BEARS

"Shorty" Roberts Plays
Well in Tuesday's Scrimmage.

By Ralph McGill.
Shorty Roberts, one of the Atlanta boys on the Georgia Tech football squad, looked great in the backfield Tuesday afternoon as the Jackets went through a long scrimmage in preparation for the California game on December 17 at Berkeley.

Roberts, who weighs 134 pounds, will probably see some service against the mastadonic California Bears, according to Coach W. A. Alexander. The Jackets will be forced to score by getting one of their pony speedsters loose. And Roberts' elusive 134 pounds will get a chance.

The tackles received special attention Tuesday afternoon. The California team plays a very methodical style of football. It strikes inside tackle and outside tackle and then kicks. There is rarely very much trying the ends or passing the football. But they do give the tackles a rather rugged afternoon.

PLAYERS RECOVER.
The Tech team departs for California Friday night. There will be five Atlanta boys on the squad and eight from other sections of the state making a total of 13 Georgia boys who will see a great deal of geography before they return.

The Atlanta boys and their schools are: Morris, Tech High; Goldsmith, U. S. B.; Spradling and Davis, Boys' High; and Roberts, Fulton High. Georgia boys are Jones, Newman; High; Adams, Fitzgerald High; Tharpe, Montclair; P. Williams, Savannah High; Sloum, Ponce and Gooding, Lanier High, and Barron, Monroe.

Mississippi supplies Eddie Laws who prepped at McCallie school at Chattanooga, and Dean from Meridian High.

ARKANSAS PAIR.
Arkansas supplies a couple, Captain Nebbett and S. Williams, of Little Rock High school. Alabama and Dothan High school are represented by Jap Hart.

South Carolina and Greenville High have a representative in Galloway.

Florida has a lone representative in Brady, of Leesburg.

Tennessee sends three: McArthur and Cherry, of Chattanooga High school, and Peterson, of Central High. Ohio and Columbus are represented by Vickery.

North Carolina sends Lackey from Statesville, who prepped at McCallie and Phillips, of Waynesville, who also prepped at McCallie. Tech, Furman and Auburn, lost to Clemson and tied Mercer.

Coach W. A. Alexander plans no stops en route on his long walk will be taken at St. Louis and at Salt Lake. The team arrives Tuesday morning after four nights and three days on the train.

Georgia Freshmen Get Grid Awards

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 6.—Thirty-six members of the Georgia freshman football team were awarded numerals for play during the season just closed. Johnny Broadnax, head freshman coach, announced today.

The Bulldogs closed their season by defeating Georgia Tech's Baby Jackets, 14-13, in Atlanta Thanksgiving Day. During the season the Bulldogs won three games, lost one and tied one. They defeated Tech, Furman and Auburn, lost to Clemson and tied Mercer.

Those making numerals were: Linebackers, Morgan, A. C. Lindsey, Harold Eisenberg, Daniel Byrd, tackles; Allen Shi, Frank Johnson, Wayne Robertson, William Hancock, Reese Lannan, Ramon Sanders, Cromer Shuler, guards; Flunk Costa, Gordon Wagner, Harold Hirsch Jr., centers; Henry Wagner, Alex Ashford, Tom Cordell, Frank Vauhs, Chester Martin, John Bowden Jr., Asa W. Candler and David Chesler, ends. Backs, Slim McKnight, Charley Treddaway, Charlie Sheldon, quarterback; Earl Hines, John Boud, Glen Johnson, C. C. Alger, Louis Abransky, Carl Gomez, Jess Hollis, Ben Wimblerly, James Smith, halfbacks, and Joe May and Johnny Jones, fullbacks.

Steele Suspended
In New York State

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Ray Steele, California heavyweight wrestler, was suspended today for 60 days by the New York State Athletic Commission as a result of his conduct in a match with Ed (Strangler) Lewis at Madison Square Garden last night.

The referee gave the bout to Lewis after Steele repeated warnings, continued to strike Lewis with his fists. The contestants' purses, which were held up overnight, were ordered paid.

Jockey Gilbert
Is Leading Winner

JEFFERSON, Pa., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Johnny Gilbert today rode his 183d winner of the year in the third race here to take the lead from Hank Mills, sensational little Colorado jockey, who recently returned to the saddle after a long suspension. Gilbert scored with Strap Hanger, an 8-1 shot, in the six-furlong dash for 2-year-old fillies. Mills finished fourth in the same race.

Gilbert made it 184 winners to take a lead of two over Mills in their race for the respective hours, rating indicative to an easy victory in the fourth.

ROME, Ga., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Undisangles of a reported attempt to kidnap John Berry Turbitt, 4-year-old grandson of John M. Berry, wealthy textile manufacturer, for $50,000. The alleged attempt was Tuesday following the arrest of a man in temporary custody of D. G. Goings, reported by Deputy Sheriff Charlie Harris to have kept him informed of the whereabouts of the child pretending to aid the kidnapers.

Harris said "other angles" of the case had kept him busy and prevented him from questioning the two men who were taken to the jail on charges of attempted kidnaping. The two were booked as A. B. Arrington Jr., county of a family prominent in this county, and Buck Walton. The two men were sure neither could make the bond as arranged by the office of the Peace George Reese, and added he "might get around to talking to one of them some time tonight."

His investigations today.

All three of the men were taken into custody yesterday, Harris said. When a pilot told Harris and the boy's father, Joe Tardiff, they descended upon them while two of them tried to hurry the child from a play yard to an automobile driven by the third.

Harris said there was "nothing new at this time" in connection with his previously announced belief that arrangements had been made with some woman to care for the child while ransom negotiations were under way.

Wings, a former aviator and radio station owner, was in contact with him by telephone immediately after the kidnapping plot was bronched to Reports Monday night that a member of the Arrington family had married a member of the Berry family and that Arrington's wife was a sister of Mrs. Joe Turbidity were erroneous, it was pointed out here today.

Sheriff Harris late Tuesday said he said he had questioned the men about the charge, but that each refused to discuss the case in any manner.
